ing the Torrance Red Cross Branch at Fairfax 8-0510 for an appointment. The bloodmobile unit will be at the Torrance Civic Auditorium, Monday, October 12, 1953 from 3 p.m. to 7:30 p.m. Mrs. Jones pointed out that the nation's blood needs were many. Whole blood is still needed by the Armed Forces overseas. In this country, hospitals use great quantities of whole blood in treating servicemen, veterans, and civilians. After these immediate needs are met, all remaining blood collected is used to build up the country's plasma reserve. "We must build up this reserve rapidly," Mrs. Jones said, "so that we will be ready for any emergency. An attack on this country could wipe the car involved was an early model, no later than a 1939 Ford, Plymouth, or Chevrolet coupe. It has an all-steel top. It was described as being dark green in color with black wheels. The suspect might have had the car repainted since and Sgt. Cook asks anyone knowing of such a car or a recent paint job to contact him at FA 8-3456. out our present reserve overnight." Mrs. Jones urged all who can to give a pint of their blood. "Giving blood," she said, "is practically painless, requires little time, and does not leave the donor with any harmful effects. It is so little to offer; yet it pays such great dividends."

Queen . . .

appear and being finally made queen on the program aroused all sorts of peculiar though quite normal reactions among her relatives. Her kids, seeing her on TV, were "tickled pink." One accompanying relative let out a yell in the studio in the excitement of hearing Mrs. Morrill's number called to go on stage. Her husband, being informed that his wife had been chosen queen, would not believe it. One sister, who watched the program on TV, let out a piercing cry in the solitude of her room and "felt funny after she did it." The kids dashed to the trailer court and told all their neighbors. When Mrs. Morrill came home, "my kids looked at me as if I were something else" (a new queen, in addition to being a "queen" now, had something to do with this). Mrs. Morrill herself just felt nervous and startled and couldn't say anything because everything just seemed too good to be true.

Gifts
The attractive housewife, who was chosen "Kitchen-Queen," received numerous gifts which included: a Westinghouse refrigerator, a Tappan stove, amana freezer, a Tappan stove, Arvin dinette, Waste King disposal, carved Hall steak knives, Westinghouse roaster oven, Dormeyer mixer and Fri-well, Poppytrail dinnerware, broiling Rotisserie, silver tea set, Universal Coffematic, club album, 3 Serbin dresses, Evans handbag, Nardis wardrobe, Ella Groll outfit, Trifari jewelry, Rose Marie Reid swim suit, Gossard garments, Helbros watch, Old Golds, White King, Luxite lingerie, and, of course, the gift she asked for—a Pep Boys' transmission.

With so many queens running around in his family, Mr. Morris seriously considering appearing on the yearly King for a Day. He hopes that he will be chosen king—not so much for the sake of the gifts but simply for the sake of maintaining prestige among his royal women-folk.
